Tools to help you stay compliant

Super Checklist for Business

Legislation around employer super obligations often changes, which can make it hard to stay on top on your responsibilities as an employer.

That's where our online Super Checklist for Business can help. It's quick and easy, and covers all the important areas of super compliance, helping to give you instant peace of mind.

Employee onboarding

Everything you need to fulfill your legal requirements as an employer and enrol your new employees. Our onboarding resources include default fund information, choice of super and stapled fund forms. We also provide a range of educational topics to help your new starters understand super and their benefits as a Rest member.

Support and benefits for you and your team

Team of employer specialists

We know that super can be unnecessarily complicated and sometimes a conversation can be the quickest and most efficient way to give you the help you need. That's why we've got a team of dedicated employer specialists on hand to help you, whenever you need them.

Employee Benefits

Being a Rest employer and member means you can access great rewards as part of your membership. From retail shopping discounts, savings on health insurance, financial wellness programs and more, all of which can be accessed from the Rest App.

Helping your business grow and succeed

Take advantage of our additional services, designed to help you get started and make the most out of our super partnership - available at no cost to you.

Franchise on-boarding resources

Our resources cover all the essential areas of super compliance for employers, including super stapling, choice of super, contribution payments, and reporting obligations. Plus, we'll equip your franchise with all the necessary Rest tools to ensure that they're on top of their super obligations, minimising risks and giving you peace of mind.

Franchise insights reporting

Drawing on data from a variety of reporting sources, we are able to provide franchise businesses with useful information, insights and trends across plan performance, insurance claims, investment performance and recent legislative updates that could potentially impact your business. These insights help you as a business owner assess whether or not you are meeting your super obligations, minimise compliance risk as well as understand how your employees are engaging with their super so we can refine help and education programs in order to help achieve the best outcomes for your employees' financial learning and well-being.

Super for business owners

As a business owner, we understand that your focus is on growing your business and you may not have the benefit of employer contributions going into a super account.

However, it's important to also prioritise your retirement savings. By making personal contributions into a super account for yourself, you can take advantage of tax benefits, protect your assets, and ensure that you have a solid financial plan for retirement.
